The South Buckinghamshire Community Hospice has a new home at Butterfly House. We continue to offer care, comfort and support when people need it most.

The difference you make:

People choose to volunteer for The South Buckinghamshire Community Hospice for so many reasons, but they all have one thing in common. They all understand how important it is to support our work in their communities.

Volunteering is fulfilling in its own right, but also a great way to meet new people, expand your skills and get involved with your local community.

“Volunteering with South Bucks Hospice showed me what a big difference can be made to the lives of families.”

There are many ways that you can help support our hospice's work too. Whatever your skills or interests, we are bound to have something you will enjoy doing.

Patient support:

- You never can tell what will make a difference for someone in this moment.

Shop support:

- Helping to fundraise supports our nurses.

Drivers:

- Make a practical difference to someone's life.

Gardeners:

- Beautiful flowers lift spirits.

Receptionists:

- The welcoming face everyone sees.

Bistro:

- Good comforting food helps people feel nurtured.

Meeters and Greeters:

- Welcoming patients, carers, families and visitors to our hospice.

Housekeeping:

- Supporting shopping and laundry.

Fundraising:

- Managing collection boxes in our community.

Administrative:

- Providing valuable support to our Finance and Fundraising departments.

Ambassadors and Speakers:

- Passionate, engaging to raise our profile.

CUT LINE

“I never knew it could be such fun”
“I learned some new skills.”

Whenever you speak to people who choose to volunteer for any organisation, they will often say that they do it because they love it!

Our hospice relies on around 150 volunteers who give their time regularly to support our work. Hundreds more support our events and fundraising activities.
